REPORT OF TOWN LIBRARY.

There was great commotion on the book shelves, Shakespeare and History were nodding together, Art and Travel were smoothing out their leaves, while Poetry and Music nearly fell off the shelf when the secret came to them that they were to have a new home. Only think a new home, where there will be no more crowding, no more pushing, no more tucking away in the dark corners, but to be placed on airy, roomy shelves where we will be recognized at first sight. It's certainly a happy thought to all that our little town, through the generosity of honored sons, is to be the recipient of a library building. It has long been wished for and will be hailed with delight by all citizens and stand as an ornament to the town and the pride of the people.

It is interesting to note more calls have been made at the library than the former year, which goes to show we are still a reading people. We are indebted to Miss Frances Reed for several volumes of choice literature for which we are truly grateful.

Some praise should be given to the librarian Mrs. Bent for her patience and work in restoring so large a number of books.

Among the selections—The Adventures of Life, by Gronfell, is a prize story. The Promised Land by Antin, the popular book of the year. Mid-summer in Whittier Land by Armes & White. Mountain Trails by Packard. Perfect gems in national scenery and nature, and many others well worthy to be read.

Whole number of books loaned,	8960
The largest number in March	930
The smallest number in July	525
